Practice Room Scheduling

Practice room scheduling begins the second week of each Fall or Spring semester. To schedule a practice room, students must consult their assigned practice room's schedule (located on each practice room door) and sign up for an available time slot. After a time slot has been reserved, your appointment will recur each week until the end of the semester. All room scheduling is done on a first-come, first-served basis.

After scheduling your practice time, you must submit a "Practice Room Application Form" to be assigned a practice room access code. You can obtain this application form from your assigned instructor.

Keep in mind that your required one hour spent at the Music Department is a minimum. Depending on your previous experience, natural physical ability and level of repertoire assigned, your total weekly practice needs will vary.

Documenting Your Practice Time

All students must document their time spent practicing. When you use an on-campus practice room, be sure to sign in to the "Practice Log Book" found in your
