COURSE POLICIES

To ensure the accuracy of records and proper private instructor assignments, the student will consult with the Instrumental Music Director immediately upon enrollment.

The student is expected to be punctual and present for EACH class period and participate in and/or out of class as requested by his/her instructor.

The student is expected to remain sufficiently prepared for each week of instruction. In this regard, each student should consult with his/her instructor to determine an acceptable, regular schedule of self-monitored practice.

Special Accommodations: Students who require special accommodations to meet course requirements must contact the private instructor on their first meeting and provide, as determined by the private instructor, appropriate documentation by the third week of class.

Instructor-Duties:

The instructor will post, as applicable, daily office and/or appointment hours; office and/or home phone numbers; office/rehearsal room number and location. This information, and any future changes, will be posted outside the instructor's office or, in the case of adjunct faculty, outside the rehearsal area. Students are advised to check these locations on a regular basis.

The instructor will provide a revised syllabus to the student, if or when changes must be made to better serve the needs of that student.

Students are encouraged to visit, IN PERSON, with their private instructor when important questions or concerns arise. Students should confine these visits to: (1) The posted appointment hours and (2) The office or assigned rehearsal area. Important visits SHOULD NOT occur in the confusion and distraction of the hallways, before/during/after class or off-campus.

Phone and Email Messages: Every effort will be made to answer phone and/or email messages in a timely fashion. It should be noted however, that since the private instructor's schedule will dictate his/her ability to address these contacts, phone and/or email messages are not appropriate for time sensitive data/information. The private instructor's inability to address phone and/or email messages in a timely fashion does not relieve student responsibility.

COURSE ATTENDANCE

EVALUATION OF STUDENTS

Determination of Grades:

The semester grade will reflect an average of the preparation, progression and performance grade and the final exam.
